Introduction

Government organizations play a very important role in society. Welfare of its citizens has ranked high on the priority list of Government of India since Independence, and in collaboration with voluntary organizations Government of India has ensured that more health services have been provided to all citizens. Immunization services have been provided to women and children, free treatment provided for many diseases, and many prophylaxis programmes undertaken to prevent health ailments. Government organizations, through its wide outreach of primary health centres, have provided funding, services throughout the country, formulated policies for many new health problems, provided training to functionaries of voluntary and other organizations, prepared IEC material and manuals, and evaluated the outcomes of many programmes to improve the health of the under privileged.

A Project was undertaken by Documentation Centre for Women and Children (DCWC), NIPCCD to bring out Directories of Organizations working in many areas. This document covers nodal Government organizations working to address the health concerns of the entire population, including women and children. For the convenience of users, departments in the Directory have been arranged alphabetically state-wise.

This Directory gives detailed information about departments in States and Union Territories and their activities, including postal address, telephone, fax, website, e-mail address, and key words indicating their areas of work and activities.

It has been possible to bring out this document due to the extensive cooperation extended by state departments that have shared the relevant information with us. Without their support it would not have been possible to bring out this compilation.

It is hoped that this document would be useful to all stakeholders working to improve the health situation in the country.
